

January 2015 Library News and Events

Did you know? It's our 50th Anniversary!

Volume 1, Issue 10

It's hard to believe, but as of April 6, 2015, our tiny village will have had a library serving the community for 50 years! 1965 was a tumultuous year for the nation but also for our own out of the way corner of the world. Establishing a library might not seem earth shaking but to all those people, from children to seniors of all backgrounds, who found a book that changed their lives, it certainly was. The Jemez Springs Library was started in 1965 by Grace Swetnam, Josephine Shepherd and Mrs. Thomas Evilsizer, in a corner of the vestibule on the lower level of the Jemez Springs Presbyterian Church. Over the next 50 years, the library would change locations, shape and size under the guidance of multiple volunteers, librarians, and Village Councils. It was a proud moment in 1997 when, having met all the criteria for the 'public' designation, the library officially became Jemez Springs Public Library, part of the New Mexico State Library System.

Help us celebrate: Read 50 books this year, and visit the library at least 50 times!

The Time Machine (PG 13, 2002, 96 minutes)

The classic science fiction novel by H.G. Wells becomes this big-budget adventure directed by the author's great-grandson Simon Wells. Guy Pearce stars as Alexander Hartdegen, a scientist, professor, and inventor in 1895 New York City who believes that time travel is possible. The sudden and unexpected death of his fiancé spurs Alexander to build a time machine, which he hopes to use in an effort to change the past; co-stars Jeremy Irons and Mark Addy. Includes a time traveling library too!
